

Computershare provides the Investor Trade Service in which you are able to instruct us to arrange for the sale of securities which you hold where those securities are in an entity that is listed on the ASX and Computershare Investor Services Pty Limited is the share registry provider for that entity and the holding otherwise meets Computershare's eligibility criteria including but not limited to holdings that:

- are Australian Issuer Sponsored (shares managed using a third party broker or online trading platform are not eligible);
- are held under an individual name or joint names with no account designation (company held holdings are not eligible);
- are ordinary fully paid shares, stapled securities or CHESS Depository Interests (CDIs);
- have an Australian or New Zealand registered address;
- are not held in a deceased estate;
- are less than the total holding value limit (typically $75,000 AUD);
- within the past 10 business days, have had no changes made to their registered details;
- if partially sold, would not leave a holding balance that is less than a marketable parcel (i.e. less than AUD$500 in value); and

If you wish to use the Investor Trade Service and you instruct us to sell some or all of your securities that are eligible to be sold using the Service, we will arrange for this to occur on an execution-only basis. This means that we will not provide you with any form of financial advice. If you need financial advice in relation to the sale of your securities then you should seek independent financial advice.

Computershare may from time to time set restrictions on what holdings are eligible to be sold using the Investor Trade Service. Further details are available at www.investorcentre.com/investortrade

These Terms apply to your use of the Investor Trade Service. Nothing in these Terms or in any other aspect of the Investor Trade Service constitutes a recommendation from Computershare to sell your securities.

Instructions by any other means (such as over the phone or by fax or email). The sale of your Securities will be executed by the Broker.

3. How and when we will carry out your sale Instructions

- (a) Where we receive Instructions from you more than 30 minutes before the close of trading on the ASX on a Trading Day, we will use reasonable efforts to instruct the Broker on that Trading Day to proceed with the sale of your Securities. However, if we receive Instructions from you 30 minutes or less before the close of trading on the ASX on a Trading Day or after the close of trading or we receive your Instructions on a day that is not a Trading Day we will instruct the Broker to proceed with the sale of your Securities on the next Trading Day.
- (b) You acknowledge that your Instructions may be subject to manual review. A manual review may cause delays in processing your Instructions and, in some circumstances, result in a rejection of those orders.
- (c) Computershare is not responsible or liable for any changes to the value of your Securities that may occur during the time in which your Instructions are being processed, including the time taken by the Broker to sell your Securities on the Exchange.
- (d) The Broker we engage to sell your Securities, may owe to us, as their wholesale client, an obligation to obtain the best outcome when handling and executing orders we provide to the broker to sell your Securities (in line with the ASIC Market Integrity Rules (Competition in Exchange Markets) 2011 as amended). The Broker may consider factors such as size, speed, price or other relevant order execution considerations, with a view to achieving the best possible execution result in the circumstances. To the extent permitted by law (whether by statute or otherwise), we accept no liability for any loss or damage arising in relation to, or in connection with, a Broker's inability or failure (for any reason whatever) to meet any of its best execution obligations. You agree that as a wholesale client of the relevant Broker, we reserve the right to provide a Broker with instructions that are inconsistent with its best execution policies and procedures at any time, should we consider such action to be appropriate in the circumstances or generally.

- (e) You acknowledge that your Instructions are provided on an 'At Market' basis only which means that when they are provided into the market by the Broker they will do so on the basis of execution at the best available price. However, the execution and the price are not guaranteed. Your Instructions, once accepted by Computershare, are irrevocable and cannot be withdrawn, amended or cancelled. You also acknowledge that 'Limit' orders are not available using the Service and you are therefore unable to set a minimum price for the sale of your Securities.

- (a) We will receive the sale proceeds payable on the sale of your Securities from the Broker on the settlement date. The settlement date will normally be (T+2) two Trading Days following the date of the trade.
- (b) We will not be obliged to make any payment to you unless and until we have received the sale proceeds from the Broker. If you have an Australian registered address recorded on the Register, payment of the proceeds (less Costs) will be made (in Australian dollars only) to your Nominated Bank Account or if you do not have a Nominated Bank Account or, if you otherwise elect, you will receive your proceeds (less Costs) by way of cheque sent to the address recorded on the Register as the registered address for the Securities. If you have a foreign registered address on the Register you will receive your proceeds (less costs) by way of cheque sent to that address. Please note that a fee applies if your proceeds are paid by cheque.
- (c) We will endeavour to ensure that you receive your sales proceeds (less applicable Costs) within one Trading Day of their receipt by us; unless your proceeds are paid by cheque, in which case we will endeavour to post your cheque within three Trading Days of the settlement date. Note: International time differences and public holidays may lead to a delay in the receipt of your funds.

- (d) Any sale proceeds held by us will be held in a trust account. We are beneficially entitled to retain any interest earned on those monies.

5. Your Instructions

We reserve the right to refuse to carry out your Instructions (in whole or in part) if we consider it in our reasonable interests to do so, including in any of the following circumstances:

 - (ii) delay in the execution of your instructions arising from a review of your instructions by us or the Broker;
 - (iii) any error, omissions, non-receipt or invalidity in your instructions;
 - (iv) any fault, error, defect or engineering our or the Broker's or the market's computer systems, or any delay, fault, failure in or loss of access to Investor Centre; or
 - (v) any cause beyond the reasonable control of us or the Broker, including, but not limited to, failure of electronic or mechanical equipment or communication lines, unauthorised access or labour problems.
- (c) Nothing in these Terms shall exclude any implied condition or warranty for your benefit the exclusion of which would contravene any statute or cause any part of these Terms to be void or invalid.
- (d) To the maximum extent that liability can be limited, you agree that our liability to you is limited to the cost of resupplying the Service.

- (e) You agree to indemnify us, each of our related bodies corporate and the Broker and the directors, officers and agents of us and them (indemnified parties) against any losses, liability, damages, costs or expenses:

- (f) You must contact Computershare immediately if you suspect that your SRN has been disclosed to, or obtained by, a third party and that its integrity has been compromised or threatened. Until such notification is received and acknowledged by Computershare, we will assume that any Instructions received in electronic form, which have been authenticated by your SRN are genuine, valid Instructions from you and we will act in accordance with them. You will be responsible and liable for all such Instructions and the resulting transactions.
